

Experience an intimate connection with five extraordinary women.

Patricia Heaton
Motherhood And Hollywood (March 15, 7:30 pm)
Her hilarious portrayal of much put-upon housewife in the hit show Everybody Loves Raymond garnered her several awards; in real life Patricia Heaton is a mother of four, actress, best-selling author and one of the most unusual and refreshing voices in Hollywood. You'll be delighted by her self-deprecating style as she shares tales from her idyllic childhood in Ohio, her career struggles, her eventual success, and the challenges she faced in balancing career and motherhood.

Valerie Bertinelli
Taking Back Your Life (January 27, 7:30 pm)
For years Valerie Bertinelli was known as America's sweetheart, now she's known as an actress, single mom, author and a health and weight-loss activist. In her empowering talk "Taking Back Your Life," Valerie will recount her struggle with weight issues over the years, the lessons learned and the courage it takes to make such a profound change in her life, as well as the faith required to maintain it.

Ann Compton
Stories Behind The Headlines (February 25, 7:30 pm)
Since 1974, when she became the first female reporter to cover the White House on a full-time basis, Ann Compton has traveled the world in the company of six presidents. From her award-winning coverage of 9/11 to her induction into the Journalism Hall of Fame, she has balanced her professional obligations with those of her own "first" family of four children. For unique insight into the Capitol stories behind the headlines, join the dynamic Ann Compton.

Lee Woodruff
Life Changes In An Instant (April 29, 7:30 pm)
How do you survive when life as you know it changes in an instant? Lee Woodruff is singularly equipped to tell you. Author, journalist and contributing editor for Good Morning America, Lee's life took a dramatic turn when her husband suffered a traumatic brain injury in Iraq. Suddenly, her field of expertise - home and family - expanded to include brain injury awareness and advocacy for families coping with this affliction. Be dazzled by courage - in an instant!

Helen Hunt
Mad About Her (May 26, 7:30 pm)
Few actresses have been praised as highly by critics and the public as Helen Hunt. From her earliest work in Community Theater, to Broadway, Primetime and Hollywood film roles, she has been continuously recognized for her outstanding performances. So, what does this award-winning actor, director, writer and mother do for an encore? Come share her conversation in her SmartTalk exclusive appearance. Believe us - it's as good as it gets.
